

Miguel Ángel Barboza López

Experiencia en Derechos Humanos y Derechos Indígenas

Miguel Ángel Abdiel Barboza López es un abogado peruano y defensor de los derechos humanos que actualmente se desempeña como Representante Regional para Sudamérica en el Business and Human Rights Resource Center de Londres. Tiene un LL.M. en Derecho Internacional de los Derechos Humanos de la Universidad de Notre Dame. Miguel tiene amplia experiencia en investigación en derechos humanos y de trabajo en organizaciones como la Fundación Konrad Adenauer y EarthRights International. Es co-autor de diversas publicaciones sobre responsabilidad corporativa y derechos humanos. Ha trabajado apoyando investigaciones jurídicas y litigios estratégicos sobre pueblos indígenas y su vínculo con empresas tanto a nivel nacional e internacional en Guatemala, Perú, Colombia, Chile, Paraguay, México, Ecuador y Bolivia.

Experience in Human Rights and Indigenous Rights

Miguel Angel Abdiel Barboza Lopez is a Peruvian lawyer and human rights advocate currently serving as Regional Representative for South America at the London Business and Human Rights Resource Centre. He holds an LL.M. in International Human Rights Law from the University of Notre Dame. Miguel has extensive experience in human rights research and working with organizations such as the Konrad Adenauer Foundation and EarthRights International. He has co-authored several publications on corporate responsibility and human rights. He has worked supporting legal research and strategic litigation on indigenous peoples and their relationship with companies both nationally and internationally in Guatemala, Peru, Colombia, Chile, Paraguay, Mexico, Ecuador and Bolivia.